Abstract

The present article's objective is the research of nominal formulas of immigrants to the commune of Rab and the foreigners who were in a direct or indirect contact with the commune in the second half of the 14th Century according to the data available from the documents written by Nicholas from Bologna and Nicholas from Curtarolo. The data give us an insight into the anthroponymic structure, origin, occupation and family situation of immigrants and foreigners in the medieval Rab.

Keywords: Rab, anthroponymy, Middle Ages, immigrants, foreigners.
